

PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

CHARLES M. HENDERSON, JR.
THOUGHT LEADER & EXECUTIVE COACH

Charles Henderson has been coaching and training managers and their staffs for more than 25 years. Using his own life story as inspiration, he created the “Heroin to Harvard” master class to help leaders develop inspirational stories that strengthen relationships and inspire their followers to higher levels of performance.

His work is anchored in behavioural science research. He is an executive fellow in the executive education programme at Henley Business School and is a faculty member at Duke Corporate Education.

Mr. Henderson has worked in more than 25 countries throughout Africa, the USA, Asia, the Middle East and Europe. He has worked with leaders at some of the world’s largest organizations such as Citibank, the World Bank and Nike.

Before coming to South Africa Mr. Henderson worked as a global risk analyst with JPMorgan Chase. He also recruited and developed leaders at Otis Elevator and advised the president of Otis on the development of a world-wide diversity initiative. Mr. Henderson lives between Johannesburg and New York.

Education

Harvard Graduate School of Business

Master in Business Administration degree in general management
Ranked #1 MBA in 2020, Financial Times

The Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania

Bachelor of Science degree in economics and finance
Ranked #1 Undergraduate Business School, US News, Sept 2021

Westchester Community College

Associate of Science degree in business administration, 1982